JEFFERSON COUNTY HISTORICAL COMMISSION VOLUME 2018, ISSUE 5

CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Dear Members,

October is Texas Archeology Month. The Handbook of Texas mentions some of the archeological sites located within our county which include six burial mounds discovered at the site of the Grigsby plantation at Port Neches which may be attributed to the Atakapa Indians and pottery shards found on Sabine Lake. Paul Tanner, our own JCHC member, found and documented many artifacts on McFaddin Beach. Scientific archeological digs have been conducted at the French House site and the historic site of Gladys City near Spindletop. Recently local media inquired about a cache of old bottles found during road work near the Beaumont Yacht Club which may be the site of the City of Beaumont's old landfill. We never know what discoveries lay ahead!

Thank you to all of our members for your time and service in preserving our history. Theresa Goodness, JCHC Chair

TEXAS ARCHEOLOGY MONTH

The 2018 Texas Archeology Month Online Calendar of Events is now posted! Go take a look and start planning your Texas Archeology Month!

Each October, Texas Archeology Month (TAM) celebrates this spirit of discovery. It's an opportunity for Texans to understand the:

- Depth and richness of our heritage, from the former dwelling sites of prehistoric hunters and gatherers to historic shipwrecks and military sites
- Historical significance of the state's archeological sites
- Importance of proper archeological practices

Contributions made by professional and avocational archeologists to our understanding of Texas' ancient and recent past.

Texas Archeology Month is a month-long celebration of Texas' archeological heritage observed each October.

Numerous organizations and institutions host public events to heighten awareness and appreciation of this heritage in communities across the state. Special TAM events may include:

- Demonstrations of native crafts and technologies
- Lectures on archeological topics
- Special education exhibits that focus on archeological sites or subjects
- Tours of archeological sites, laboratories, or exhibits
- Hands-on activities, such as mock digs and ceramic pot making

The Texas Historical Commission shares: "If the history of human experience in Texas were a book, most of the pages would be blank. For all we know about human cultures, lives, and activities in Texas, many more stories of Texas' past remain unknown and await discovery. Each October, Texas Archeology Month celebrates this spirit of discovery."

Each year the Texas Historical Commission, along with the Jefferson County Historical Commission, celebrates Texas Archeology Month. An exhibit highlighting local projects and discoveries will be on display in the Jefferson County Mini-Museum October 1 – November 30, 2018.

Some of the information included will be from the collection of JCHC member Paul Tanner (deceased).

The museum is located on the first floor of the historic Courthouse.
