

Minutes of Jefferson County Historical Commission Special Meeting
Noon, Wednesday, October 13, 2021
Agricultural Auditorium, 1225 Pearl Street, Beaumont TX 77701

Order of Business

Call to Order: Chair Theresa Goodness called the meeting to order at 12:00 PM. Attending were JCHC members: Theresa Goodness, Kate Hambright, Brenda Jackson, Steven P. Lewis, Les McMahan, Linda McMahan, Paul Prosperie, Lynn Simon, Don Smart and Jen Trenbeath. Also attending was Advisor Judy Linsley.

A Quorum was determined. There was no Citizens Communication.

Historical Preservation:

Beaumont Historical Landmark Commission – Theresa Goodness

- Report on Historic Cultural Landmark Designations awarded by Beaumont Landmark Commission. Theresa had available a handout of “Beaumont Properties with Historical Designations”. (See Attachment B.)
- Report on process for requesting agenda Items be added for consideration by Beaumont Landmark Commission.

Action Item:

1. Discussion, consideration and possible approval to request an agenda item for consideration by the Beaumont Landmark Commission asking for support to replace the entire roof over the Tyrrell Park Civilian Conservation Corps Building.

Theresa shared with the Commission some of the bylaws of the City of Beaumont Landmark Commission, on which she sits. The Landmark Commission is tasked with approving or denying changes made to building within the designated Historical District. The City of Beaumont has several buildings with a plaque designating them as City Landmarks; however the City records do not reflect the plaque that is at the CCC building at Tyrrell Park.

Steven P. Lewis has contacted City Council members to attempt to educate them on the history of the CCC building as well as to discuss the future of the building.

Discussion was held as to the appropriateness of the JCHC sending a request to the City of Beaumont Landmark Commission to review the renovations done to the Tyrrell Park CCC building to date as well as the future plans. It was ultimately decided that according to the bylaws of the Landmark Commission, there is not a course of action that would allow them to intervene on an action that has passed City Council and therefore, no motion was made to submit a request on behalf of the JCHC.

Historical Markers and Research – Les McMahan

- Report on Texas Treasure Business Award Program.

Action Item:

2. Discussion on process for the Texas Treasure Business Award Program and requirements for businesses to be considered. (See Attachment B.)

Les McMahan presented information regarding a new program the Texas Historical Commission is putting together that will recognize local businesses that have been in continual operation for 50 years or more. More information will be forthcoming as things progress.

History Appreciation:

Battleship Texas – Report on possible relocation of the Battleship Texas to Beaumont, Texas.

Action Item:

3. Discussion, consideration and possible approval authorizing the Chair to send a letter of support on behalf of JCHC to the City of Beaumont and / or other interested parties in favor of relocation of Battleship Texas to Beaumont, Texas.

Discussion was held regarding the possibility of the City of Beaumont submitting an application to be considered as a permanent home for the Battleship Texas. A motion was made by Don Smart and seconded by Les McMahan to send a letter of support from the JCHC to the City of Beaumont, the Battleship Texas Foundation and other concerned parties. The motion passed unanimously. (See Attachment C for copy of letters to the Honorable Robin Mouton, Mayor of City of Beaumont and Thomas J. Perich, Chairman, Battleship Texas Foundation.)

Adjournment – The meeting adjourned at 12:53 PM.

TEXAS TREASURE BUSINESS AWARD

Resources

There are many resources available to help you in documenting the founding date of your business. Of course the best resources can probably be found in your documents such as old ledgers, invoices, and deeds. However, if you are still having problems verifying the date here are some resources that may be of help to you. While some of this information may be available online much of it will only be available as reference or as an Inter-library loan to your public library. If you are unable to travel to the location researchers may be available at the library to assist you.

One great resource to help with your search is the Marker Toolbox and can be found on the THC website.

City Directories and Telephone Books

University of North Texas-Portal to Texas History: Various city directories, business directories, legal directories, and phone directories. Many directories have business advertisements. 1870–1969 in full text.

texashistory.unt.edu/explore/collections/CIT/browse/?q=city+directories&t=fulltext

Fort Worth Public Library: Fort Worth city directories from 1877–present, Arlington from 1964–present and Fort Worth Telephone directories from 1910–present.

fortworthtexas.gov/library/info/default.aspx?id=5618

Center for American History: Austin: Texas city and telephone directories available for on-site use.

www.cah.utexas.edu/research/directories.php

Texas State Library and Archives: State archives have numerous city directories available to look at on-site.

www.tsl.state.tx.us/arc/citydirs.html

Ancestry.com: Resources that can often help you find information including city directories and Census records.

GOVERNMENT

Texas County Tax Lists, 1836–1910: Includes most Texas counties with records arranged by the first letter of the taxpayer's last name.

fortworthtexas.gov/library/info/default.aspx?id=10152

Texas State Library and Archives; Texas County Tax Rolls: Available on microfilm through the late 1970s and may be looked at on site or loaned to your local library.

Texas Secretary of State: Business charter and corporation information is available through the Texas Secretary of State dating from the 1800s.
www.sos.state.tx.us/corp/sosda/index.shtml

County Courthouse: The county courthouse may have records of deeds and taxes. Much of the information has a retention of 20 years and some counties get rid of the records at that time. The records may be destroyed or donated to a local museum.

MISCELLANEOUS

Your Records: Your family records will provide the best documentation of your business. Old Ledgers, deeds, invoices, photographs, and tax records are all good sources.

Industry Associations: There are hundreds of industry associations in Texas and many have been in existence over 50 years and may have records that would be useful to you, such as the Texas Automobile Dealers Association (1916), and the Texas Restaurant Association (1937).

OCLC WorldCat: Lists over 2 billion items that can be found in libraries around the world. Many can be used by you through interlibrary loan to your local library or perhaps the library that owns the item can make a copy of specific information for you. TTBA Presentation Event Planning FAQ

Share

Award recipients and their sponsors will be honored by a presentation of a certificate in a suitable location determined by the recipient and the nominating party. For more information we have provided the following Presentation Event Planning FAQs.

PLANNING AN AWARD PRESENTATION EVENT FAQ

Q. Who designates the award?

A. The Texas Historical Commission (THC) is authorized by the Texas Legislature to honor businesses that have existed in this state providing employment and supporting the Texas economy for 50 years or more with the Texas Treasure Business Award. Award certificates are signed by your state senator and representative, the THC chair and executive director.

Q. Who plans award presentations?

A. Award presentations are most often planned by the nominating party whether that is the business, a local organization or the office of a senator or representative. The Texas Historical Commission (THC) does not plan award presentations but hopes to have an announcement on the floor of the Senate and the House during legislative session every two years that will list the recipients of this award during the previous biennium.

Q. What's right for you?

A. Award presentations take many forms and are planned by agreement of all parties including elected officials, the business, the nominator, and involved community groups.

Q. How do I request THC participation?

A. A representative of the THC is always happy to participate if scheduling allows. Please complete and return the Presentation Event Notification form four weeks prior to your event. This form can be downloaded from the THC website.

Q. Who is involved in scheduling an event?

A. Scheduling an event takes collaborative planning. You may want to consider the following:

- Offer your state senator and representative the opportunity to present the award. Contact their office staff to see if they are available and discuss potential dates and locations.
- Coordinate scheduling with the business and the community calendar. Your event may receive greater support if planned to coincide with other local celebrations, commemorations, statewide, or national programs such as Preservation Month.
- Contact local officials, community leaders or groups that will be included in the event.
- Check the THC website calendar for agency or regional events scheduled in the area.

12

- If the THC is notified of the event we will pass the information on to participants in the Texas Main Street Program, Certified Local Government, County Historical Commission, and Texas Heritage Trails Program as appropriate.

Q. Where will the presentation event take place?

A. Public presentations are typically held in the community where the business maintains its headquarters although other arrangements may be considered. Recent presentations have taken place in a variety of locations such as:

- A press event outside a business front door in downtown.
- In a community center followed by a reception.
- Inside the business building.
- At the county commissioner's monthly meeting or a city council meeting.
- At the State Capitol, planned by a representative's office.
- On a stage during a music festival in a historic town square.
- In a historic building restored by the architecture firm receiving the award.
- In the county historical museum.

Q. Should invitations be sent?

A. The THC does not provide invitations. Many events happen without invitations. Some are planned with digital invitations sent electronically. Some event planners rely on word of mouth and media exposure and some have professionally designed announcements.

Q. Is a program necessary?

A. Just like invitations, having a program is a choice the event planner makes. If all the following entities are in attendance, most often the mayor or city official will act as master of ceremonies, a THC representative will talk briefly about the award program, and state elected officials will present the award. If the nominator is an organization such as Main Street, the County Historical Commission, an economic development corporation or the chamber of commerce, they will often provide remarks on the history of the business or businesses.

Q. How is the media invited?

A. When an award is designated, two templates are provided in the award packet to assist with a Media Advisory and Press Release. The Media Advisory alerts your media contacts ahead of time about the upcoming event by providing the basic information of who, what, when, and where. The Press Release for distribution the day of the event provides a story on the event with spaces for participant quotes. Both templates may be adapted for your specific needs.

Q. What about photographs?

A. Determine when photos should be taken either during the presentation or immediately following. Plan who will be responsible for taking the photos and how they will be distributed to media channels. The THC appreciates receiving event photos that include the names of those pictured and will include them in our social media posts whenever possible.
